Logan and their two attractive daughters were not a little surprised to hear of the marriage of Miss Elise Logan to Lieutenant Robert Adams, 9th Infantry, U. S. A., which occurred in Manila on September 20. Mrs. Logan and her two daughters, Miss Elise and Miss Georgina, sailed from San Francisco for the Philippines, where 'antain Logan's ship, the Ohio, was then stationed. Both of the young ladies took an active part in Manila society, and it was announced of Miss Logan, the younger girl, to Captain Day of the Marine Corps, attached to the Ohio. The wedding of this pretty young girl and Captain Day took place aboard the Ohio, at Yokohama, during the summer. Mrs. Logan and Miss Elise returned to Manila in the fall, and This wedding took place at the little Epis-copal church in Manila, and was a brilcopal church in Manila, and was a brilliant function. The bridal finery tulle has reasserted its hold on feminine fancy. At a recent beautiful wedding in Detroit the bride's dress was fashioned of white tulle over ivory was fashioned of white tune over lvory liberty satin, having an empire back and princess front. The long train was finished with satin folds. Over the shoulders fell a kerchief of tulle, while the corsage had further ornamentation of lace and ribbon. A cluster of orchids tied with white ribbon formed her bouquet and orange blossoms. fastened the rare old point lace vell to her coiffure. The maid of honor wore silver spangled white chiffon with panels outlined with rosebuds and a tulle veil fastened with Prince of Wales' feathers. The ten bridesmaids were visions of youthful grace in gowns of pink tulle, made in empire-princess fashion. Wreaths of tiny pink rosebuds were in their hair, and each carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink roses, encircled in white lace, to which were fastened ropes of smllax, which, as they de-scended the stairway, formed an alsle for the entrance of the bride.

The debut of Miss Anna Kelth Frazier, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Frazier, was accompanied by the lavish hospitality of the south and made the occasion of an
